and when there was a deflection in the ranks of the "Mets" he was promptly awarded the vacant stool.

His promotion was cheered by bettors in general, for there is no more obliging or politic bookmaker in the business. It was a hard blow to the "Mets," however, and one of them, Orlando Jones, went so far as to declare he would not make book in the same ring with Tyler. No one seemed to be particularly distressed at this threat, so Jones thought the matter over and decided to offer odds as usual.

With Tyler in the big ring there is likely to be a little loosening up in the matter of edds. He is a man who is likely to be a little loosening up in the matter of edds. He is a man who is likely to be a little loosening up in the smooth of the first he has done since his defeat by Woolwich. He shows none of the soreness that was noticeable after his last to accept a bet, and the fact that he makes book all the time with-

CLOVER CREST—Three furlongs in 0.37, handly; 110 pounds up. Shows improvement and will make more than a fair horse.

STREPHON—Five furlongs in 0.12, 0.52 3.5, 0.50, 1.05, handly; 100 pounds up. Worked better this morning than usual; will be a contender at six furlongs.

tance and cross country runner, has travelled across the Atlantic to run an exhibition ten-mile race at the Galway Men's annual outing and games in Cel-tic Park, on Sunday, June 11. Pryces is a Galway man. That county has produced the three greatest living run-ners, John Daly, John Joyce and Hynes. ners, John Daly, John Joyce and Hynes. Daly on his visit to this country last year swept all before him. He barely defeated Joyce, the idol of the Irish-American Athletic Chub, at Celtic Park. On Daly's return to Ireland he was tackled by Hynes, who bested him.

It is proposed by President Lally, of the Galway Men's Association, to make a match between Joyce and Hynes, to be run at the games next sunday week. If such a match is carded the crowd that will flock to the park will overflow to Calyary.

John J. McHugh and Charles J. Diegos are receiving the entries for the other events of the day. They will comprise handicaps at 100 yards, 300 yards, 350 yards and one mile, and a 440-yard novice. There will be two Gaele football matches to add to the strenuousness of things, and there will be dancing to wind up the day in the rale oudd Irish style.

MUNROE AND LEWIS TRAIN.

Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, and Wilke Lewis, the local light-weight, have established training quarters at Scharles Hotel, on Jerome avenue, near Woodlawn, Jim Galvin and Phil Kelly have joined the camp and will train the men.

Munroe will in all probability be seen in action in the Quaker City within the next few weeks. He has been down South all winter and returned recently prepared to box any of the heavy-

Jack O'Brien, Marvin Hart and Jack Johnson have been mentioned as prospective opponents, and it is likely that Munroe will meet one of the three men.

Lewis is going to make an effort to get down to 186 pounds in order to fight Nelson. That is the weight demanded by the Pane and Lewis, who is a light-weight, has an idea that, with several weeks, strenuous work, he can make the weight.
